

The secrets of secret agents revealed

Espionage

YANNICK PELEGRIN & LARS BOVÉ

This nonfiction book plunges us into the intriguing world of secret agents around the globe. Author Lars Bové covers many different angles, giving us a historical overview with facts and figures, well-known intelligence services, famous spies and remarkable events. Likewise, all the different facets of the profession and tools of the trade are outlined very clearly: bugging devices and other gadgets, weapons and poisons, code language, cyber espionage and spy animals – because dogs, pigeons, fish and dolphins are also involved in espionage. The book ends with tips to kickstart your own career as a spy.

The information is presented in bite-sized pieces, written in plain language and complemented with imaginative and atmospheric illustrations. The red, green and brown hues evoke an enigmatic mood that is consistent with the mystery of the topic. Illustrator Yannick Pelegrin, who is best known as a graphic novelist, rendered one theme in the book like a proper graphic novel, which results in a lovely intermezzo.

A masterful first book ****

CUTTING EDGE ABOUT 'ALDO'

AUTHORS

Yannick Pelegrin (b. 1994) is driven by a strong feeling for aesthetics and a passion for telling compelling stories. His unpublished short story 'Jungle Behind Glass' won him the Plastiëken Plunk and his debut Aldo was very well received. Pelegrin also produces illustrations for newspapers and magazines. Lars Bové (b. 1980) is a political and economics editor and an investigative journalist with Flemish newspaper De Tijd. He has worked on various high-profile international fraud cases and is a member of a group bringing together the world's best investigative journalists. He teaches journalism students and frequently appears on news programmes to talk about espionage.

ORIGINAL TITLE Spionage. Van geheime codetaal tot vergiftigde tandpasta (2020, Lannoo, 152 pp.)

AGE 10+

FORMAT 240x200

RIGHTS SOLD French (La Martinière), Spanish (Pijama Books), German (Jacoby & Stuart)

TRANSLATION RIGHTS Liesbeth De Bruyne - liesbeth.debruyne@lannoo.be, Gunther Spriet - gunther.spruet@lannoo.be

TRANSLATION GRANTS Elise Vanoosthuysen - elise@flandersliterature.be