

A friend you can count on

The Kind Crocodile

LEO TIMMERS

One day, Crocodile decides to leave his pond and to head into the big wide world. That's when he realises that quite a few of his friends are in trouble. The mouse is being chased by a snake, the boar is seeking a safe haven to escape the hyena and the antelope is running for his life to get away from the cheetah. Luckily, they all find a place on the kind croc's long back. With his huge mouth full of sharp teeth, he growls and keeps enemies at bay. Anyone hunting his friends is taught a lesson. GRRRR! But after a while, it all becomes a bit much with that many different animals on his back. When the frightened rhinoceros also seeks refuge on the crocodile's back, the kind hero buckles under the weight of all his friends. Who is going to chase away the hungry lion now?

The strong plot, compact text and captivating illustrations make 'The Kind Crocodile' another Timmers hit.

AUTHOR

Leo Timmers's (b. 1970) cartoonish style is characterized by humour, form and colour, which make his illustrations leap off the page. His bright pictures and sharply outlined figures are a perfect match for the humorous undertone of his stories, which are full of animals and modes of transportation. Timmers likes to tell stories visually with a minimum of words. He was the first Flemish illustrator to have a book included in The New York Times' ten best books of the year. Photo © Jildiz Kaptein
