

Lively portrait of a brilliant composer

Beethoven

JAN CAEYERS

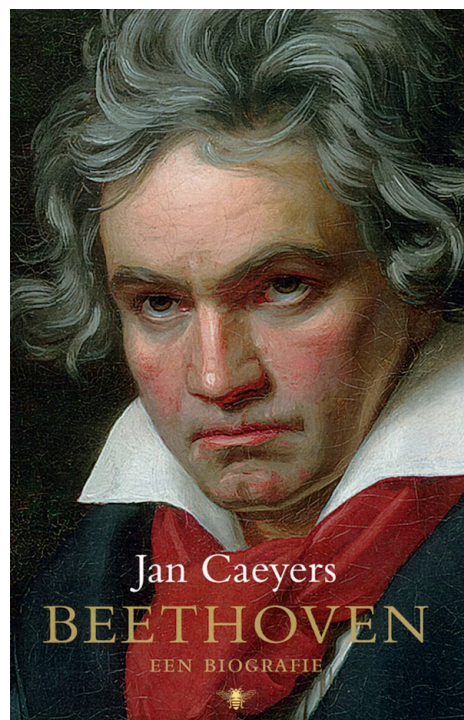

Jan Caeyers, a leading expert on Beethoven, has written one of the few biographies to encompass the entire life and work of the composer. He looks in detail at the historical context in which Beethoven worked and offers a lucid analysis of the music, which became more complex and wayward with the years.

Caeyers portrays Beethoven as a brilliant composer who had an extremely complicated and tormented personality. In this particularly well-documented account he connects Beethoven's work with the facts of his life: his sombre childhood, his fluctuating moods, his desires, his relationships and conflicts with family and friends, his passionate letters to his 'immortal beloved' and the tragedy of his deafness.

An outstanding achievement

VRIJ NEDERLAND

The author draws upon his years of experience as a conductor of Beethoven's works. Paying close attention to both psychological details and social structures, Caeyers also presents an evocative portrait of Vienna in the years around 1800. His biography will appeal to a broad audience of music lovers and to anyone interested in cultural history.

AUTHOR

Jan Caeyers (b. 1953) is a symphony conductor and musicologist. He studied, worked and lived for many years in Vienna, specializing in eighteenth- and early nineteenth-century music. He founded the Beethoven Academy, with which he has performed in Europe's major concert halls, and he has served as a guest conductor for numerous orchestras and opera houses. He lectures at the Catholic University of Leuven.

ORIGINAL TITLE Beethoven. Een biografie (2009, De Bezige Bij, 672 pp.)

RIGHTS SOLD English (California University Press), German (C.H. Beck), Hungarian (Typotex), Italian (Mondadori), Arabic (MacBook / Sphinx Agency)

TRANSLATION RIGHTS Marijke Nagtegaal - m.nagtegaal@debezigebij.nl

TRANSLATION GRANTS Patrick Peeters - patrick@flandersliterature.be