

Hilarious multi-car pile-up

Bang

LEO TIMMERS

One big, hilarious pile-up – that's 'Bang', a fabulous picture book story with hardly any words. Animals of all kinds go crashing into each other. They all have their own reasons for not noticing they're about to smash into the others. Only Chameleon pays attention and, with brakes screeching, is able to avoid a collision. Everyone's so relieved. But only for a moment, because then Penguin comes along and he can't get his ice-cream van to stop in time. But what a happy crash it is! Ultimately, it makes the world a better place. Friendships blossom, someone proposes marriage and in the end a street party breaks out.

The maddest most irresistible picture book

MEG ROSOFF

'Bang' is a short but powerful picture book. You can leaf through it as quickly as a pile-up occurs, but it's worth taking a little longer to 'drive' through it: every collision has an abundance of details worth examining. The colourful illustrations and characterful animals make this book a feast for the eye. Leo Timmers manages to transform an everyday moment into an hilarious pile-up.

Guaranteed to provoke smiles, giggles and guffaws

SYDNEY MORNING HERALD

AUTHOR

Leo Timmers's (b. 1970) cartoonish style is characterized by humour, form and colour, which make his illustrations leap off the page. His bright pictures and sharply outlined figures are a perfect match for the humorous undertone of his stories, which are full of animals and modes of transportation. Timmers likes to tell stories visually with a minimum of words. He was the first Flemish illustrator to have a book included in The New York Times' ten best books of the year.

ORIGINAL TITLE Boem (2011, Querido, 48 pp.)

FORMAT 220 x 198

AGE 2+

PRIZES Boekenpauw

RIGHTS SOLD English (Gecko Press), French (Milan), Danish (Turbine), Swedish (Turbine), Simplified Chinese (Shanghai Tian'an Culture Communication), Faroese (Bókadeild Føroya Lærarafelags)

TRANSLATION RIGHTS Elaine Michon - elaine@elami-agency.com

TRANSLATION GRANTS Elise Vanoosthuyse - elise@flandersliterature.be