

The art of self-deceit

Saving Fish

ANNELIES VERBEKE

The story of 'Saving Fish' is pervaded with the pain of a lost love. After her boyfriend Thomas leaves her, author Monique Champagne turns her back to literature. She gains a new lust for life in her devotion to protesting against the worldwide depletion of the fish population, with dramatic implications for all mankind.

An organisation asks her to provide a literary interlude at international symposia on fishing. This good cause justifies the flight from her own problems. Until she can no longer hide behind cod and tuna. After all, by saving fish she is attempting to save not only mankind but also, ultimately, herself.

A very intelligent novel

DE MORGEN

Downhearted, helplessly emotional and losing her way, seeking her identity and some sense in her life in risky and foolish ways, Monique endeavours, in a similar manner, to evade her buried pain and grief.

The impressive intertwining of this personal account of evolutionary theory, the measured wording and the well-considered composition of the story, not forgetting Verbeke's typical intractable, ambiguous, laconic humour, make 'Saving Fish' an intelligent, intense and admirable novel.

Crying bitterly without weeping a tear in such a humoristic book. That's irresistible.

DE VOLKSKRANT

AUTHOR

Annelies Verbeke (b. 1976) made her fiction debut with the international bestseller Sleep! in 2003. Her work has been published in twenty countries and she has been awarded with several literary prizes. In addition to novels and stories, she has also written columns, scripts, theatre texts and a graphic novel. Keywords: snappy, slightly absurdist, weirdos and wistful nostalgia.

Photo © Alex Salinas

ORIGINAL TITLE Vissen redden (2009, De Geus, 185 pp.)

PRIZES Literature Prize of the Province East-Flanders

RIGHTS SOLD German (Mare), Finnish (Avain), Danish (Turbine), Czech (Kniha Zlin), Bulgarian (Balkani)

TRANSLATION RIGHTS Jolijn Spooren - j.spooren@singeluitgeverijen.nl

TRANSLATION GRANTS Marieke Roels - marieke@flandersliterature.be, Elise Vanoosthuyse - elise@flandersliterature.be